WOULD ADVERTISE TOWN WITH FILMS

Movies to be Used to Advertise
Gettysburg as a Tourist Point.
Hotel, Railroad, and Business
Men Hold Meeting to Discuss Plan.

Advertising Gettysburg by means of moving pictures was a plan which developed Wednesday evening at a meeting of some of the town's business men with several officials of the Western Maryland Railway, held at the Hotel Gettysburg.

Since the disintegration of the Merchants Association there has been no regularly organized body to represent the interests of the town. An effort was made more than a year ago to establish a board of trade to promulgate those ideas which might be of advantage to the general interests of the community but this was not a success, and the hotel men, realizing the probability of a dull season, saw the necessity of taking some action to boom the tourist trade.

Other than the hotels, the business most intimately concerned with the tourist trade is the railroads. J. A. Ring, of the Hotel Gettysburg, conceived the idea of having the railroads work in conjunction with the town business men in the production of a moving picture film to be shown at all points throughout the country from which excursions might be sent to Gettysburg.

With this idea in view, and for the purpose of discussing other practical suggestions, an appointment was made with Messrs. C. F. Stewart, General Passenger Agent, and M. T. McNeal, Traveling Passenger Agent of the Western Maryland line. The plan as unfolded is to have a film made of all the interesting parts of the battlefield, the business places of the town and the scenic sections of the railroad leading to Gettysburg; and after arrangement has been made by a representative of the railroad with some strong local organization of a nearby city to conduct an excursion for its benefit, have the Gettysburg film thoroughly advertised and exhibited in this town.

It was estimated that three thousand feet of film would include sufficient of the battlefield and the town to interest but not tire the spectators, and this added to a thousand feet of scenic picture made from the Western Maryland line, together with the time consumed by the lectures, would make a well proportioned evening's show.

A film of this sort would cost about seven hundred dollars. The portion occupied by the railroad would amount to one hundred and they, through Mr. Stewart, agreed to have it made at their own expense. In addition to the six hundred necessary for the town's portion of the picture it would require several hundred dollars to start the advertising and incidental expenses incurred in getting the film on its way. It is thought that, after a proper start has been made, the venture will be at least self supporting. Hotels and amusement places of town have agreed to set aside a portion of the revenue derived from tourists brought here on these excursions for the maintenance of the plan.

END OF SMALL POX AGITATION

Parole Period Comes to an End and Men in Jail are Released on Payment of Costs. No Unfavorable Developments among Contacts.

After paying costs amounting to a little over $10.00 in the two cases, Earl Heller and E. Wolf, placed in the county jail in connection with developments of the recent small pox affair, were given their release Wednesday evening.

Heller was arrested Tuesday charged with violating the provisions of his parole in not reporting at a specified time for examination. Wolf had been placed in jail Monday for breaking quarantine imposed after he, too, had failed to report when required.

The period of this parole for all the employees at the brick plant who were known to have been in contact with Charles Sheeler, the Baltimore man who came here more than a month ago, terminated on Wednesday night and no unfavorable developments appeared during the time they were under observation. Sheeler had been going about town for several weeks when local authorities were notified of his presence here by the State Department of Health and examination showed that he had been a sufferer from the disease.

The local board was quick to take the steps prescribed by law to safeguard the community from any further danger, and there were only a few cases where any drastic action was deemed necessary. These were the cases of Mr. Wolf and Mr. Heller both of whom were placed under quarantine in jail, and that of Mr. Oswald whose home was quarantined Sunday afternoon after he was charged with breaking parole. The quarantine was lifted there the same evening upon Mr. Oswald's assurance that he would observe the provisions of the parole for the remainder of the period.

Mr. Oswald claims that he did not violate the parole in the first place, saying that he had been given permission by Dr. Stewart, secretary of the Board of Health, to be out of town during the week he failed to report for examination. Dr. Stewart denies this, saying that the permission was given for only one day, whereas Mr. Oswald was absent for a week.

The release of the two men in jail and the termination of the parole period apparently brings to an end this year's small pox affair.

MEDIATORS REQUEST ARMISTICE

Mr. Wilson Practically Agrees.

FIRST STEP TO PEACE

Envoys to Consider Rebels' Situation Next.

WHITE HOUSE OPTIMISTIC

It is Believed Mexico and the United States Will Agree to Armistice, Which Will Halt Any Actual War Step, But Does Not Stop Preparations.

Washington, April 30. — An armistice in the difficulties between the United States and Mexico has been asked of this government and General Huerta by the South American envoys who have undertaken to avert a war through mediation.

Ambassador Da Gama, of Brazil, notified Secretary Bryan that this had been determined upon as the next step in the negotiations and that General Huerta also had been notified.

The Brazilian ambassador also presented to Secretary Bryan a dispatch from the Brazilian legation in Mexico City dealing with the mediation negotiations. The ambassador would only say that the note dealt with General Huerta's attitude toward "terms of presentation" of mediation proposals.

An announcement was made by Secretary Bryan that General Carranza had accepted the principle of mediation in the difficulty between the two countries, and that he had informed the mediators of his willingness to confer on the subject.

Secretary Bryan denied that any suggestion had been made to this government looking to the selection of mediators representing any other governments than Brazil, Argentina and Chile. It had been reported that General Huerta wanted Great Britain, France and Spain included with a seventh power, probably Germany, to be selected by the other six as umpire.

Despite this denial news dispatches from Berlin said that the South American mediators had approached the European powers, according to diplomatic circles at the German capital, with the request that those nations exert influence with President Wilson to have him consent to conditions which would make the success of the mediation negotiations possible.

After the conference the mediators, Senor Da Gama, Senor Naon, minister from Argentina, and Senor Suarez, minister from Chile, determined that further negotiations necessarily must proceed without warlike interference, and Senor Da Gama went to the state department to acquaint Secretary Bryan of the course thus far taken in the peace plans. The Brazilian minister in Mexico City also was notified and he communicated the information to General Huerta.

The communication, addressed to both governments, formally requests each government to declare an armistice. It was pointed out by officials that in all probability the United States would accept the proposal, notwithstanding the fact that this government has not recognized that a state of war in Mexico exists, in so far as the American operations are concerned.

Despite this fact it was believed that this government would not put any barriers in the path of mediation, particularly at such an early stage of the negotiations. Officials in Washington also believed that General Huerta would accept the proposal.

When Secretary Bryan was asked about the request of the envoys for an armistice he said:

"I assume that there will be no hostilities during the mediation."

The proposal for an armistice does not include any reference to the revolution in Mexico, the United States and Huerta merely being called upon to cease active operations against one another pending further mediation proposals.

Consideration of the Constitutionalists' position, it was stated, probably would be involved in the next step to be taken after an armistice had been agreed to by the principals in the difficulties between the United States and the Huerta government.

Under the armistice, neither the Huerta government nor the United States would pause in preparations for war. Plans for possible conflict would proceed, but the armistice would prohibit actual hostilities in the field and any extension of military control by either side. In Mexico people would be permitted to go where they pleased unmolested. It would simply establish a truce.

SENOR RIANO.

Spanish Ambassador Who Received Huerta's Answer.

Huerta's formal acceptance of the mediation proposal was received by Senor Riano, the Spanish ambassador, and was immediately forwarded by him to the representatives of the three South American governments which offered their good offices. Ambassador Da Gama, of Brazil, lost no time in calling his two colleagues in the diplomatic service, Ministers Naon, of Argentina, and Suarez, of Chile, into conference.

SAY HUERTA IS READY TO FLEE

Dictator Breaks With His War Minister.

Mexico City, April 30. — An army coup d'etat resulting in the overthrow of President Huerta is threatened in this city. Huerta has broken with General Blanquet, his minister of war.

Attaches of the national palace are reported to be getting all railroad cars available, indicating that Huerta is preparing to leave the city.

There is an ominous calm. There have been no anti-American demonstrations for forty-eight hours. The troops are sullen, and rumors of a revolt are heard on every hand.

Representatives of General Zapata announced that he will reach the capital before Saturday. Friends of the bandit leader declare that he will join hands with Huerta against the United States.

Dr. Ignacio Alcocer, minister of the Interior, has sent further messages to all state governors, urging them in the name of Huerta to push their efforts to persuade the rebel leaders to unite in defense of national integrity. Complete amnesty is promised the rebels.

Despite this threatened overturn of Huerta, diplomats in Mexico City profess to believe that Huerta's acceptance of mediation will result in the settlement of all the questions between Mexico and the United States. They are taking a more hopeful view of the situation than they have had in more than eight months.

Huerta, it is said, will appoint Francisco de la Barra, now Mexican minister to Paris, as his representative before the mediatory commission.

CARRANZA YIELDS TO VILLA

Forced to Abandon His Warlike Attitude Towards United States.

El Paso, Texas, April 30.—Pancho Villa's personal brigade of troops, numbering about 7000 men and known as the "Brigade Villa," reached Chihuahua City from Torreon.

The movement of the troops can have but two meanings. Villa either brought his personal army from the front in order to be strong enough to force his opinions on Carranza in the present controversy with the United States, or Villa is insincere in his protestations of friendship for the United States and is moving his troops toward the border.

Generally it is believed that Villa is sincere and that so far as the rebels at the present are concerned the United States has nothing to fear in the way of trouble.

What may come in the event of the rebels capturing Tampico is another question. They are saying that they do not care about the United States embargo on war munitions, as they expect to capture Tampico in a few days, when they will be able to get all the arms they want. Should the United States continue the Tampico blockade after it falls into rebel hands the rebel officials do not hesitate to say that this would be considered a violation of rebel territory.

Further confirmation is had of Villa's supremacy at Chihuahua, but it is said that Carranza has not yet supplemented his note to President Wilson. In some quarters it is now said that there may be no further exchange between Carranza and President Wilson and that Carranza may let his note stand and do nothing. The tone of his note meant war, but Villa has informed him that there will be nothing of the kind.

MINE WAR RAGES AS TROOPS ARRIVE

Seven Guards Killed in Battle at Forbes, Colo.

MILITIAMEN ARE WOUNDED

Two Detachments of Regulars Arrive on Scene and It is Believed Further Trouble Will Be Averted.

Denver, Colo., April 30.—Almost coincident with the arrival in this state of federal troops, advices received at the governors office were that a sharp engagement between strikers and the mine guards and militia was in progress near Walsenburg.

One militiaman, O. L. Wilmoth, a private, was known to have been wounded, but a report that five had been killed proved to be untrue.

From Forbes a courier brought to Trinidad the news that seven men had been killed in the camp of the Rocky Mountain Fuel company. Most of the mine buildings are in ashes. Nine defenders are missing, but are believed to have reached the Majestic mine. Three strikers are thought to have been killed.

Strikers estimated to number 300 attacked the property. There was a battle lasting several hours, after which the strikers disappeared in the hills.

Two bodies were burned in the ruins of the mine building. Twenty-eight mules were burned when the strikers set fire to the mine stables. Several horses were shot or burned.

The buildings destroyed include the mine office with the United States postoffice, the tipple, engine house, boarding house, barn and several of the homes of miners.

While the fire was at its height throngs of miners swarmed down from the hills in the face of the rifles of the guards. Dashing into the mine buildings, they applied torches and oil.

Federal troops from Fort D. A. Russell, Wyoming, arrived at Canon City, and were sent to the disturbed districts. A detachment from Fort Leavenworth arrived at Trinidad and was sent to the mines nearby. The situation in these districts became quiet at once and no further rioting is expected.

In official circles in Denver and also among union leaders there was expressions of confidence in the federal troops to control the situation. Governor Ammon, however, declared his determination not to withdraw any of the state troops from any of the localities which will not be amply protected by United States soldiers.

JAPAN REJECTED HUERTA

Mikado's Government Refused to Look After Mexican Affairs.

Washington, April 30.—The Japanese government, it has developed, was asked and declined to act for the Huerta administration through its diplomatic representatives in Washington and its consuls in the United States prior to Mexico's successful application to Spain to perform this mission.

Though the Japanese embassy refuses to confirm the report, it is known to be well founded and to have given great satisfaction to President Wilson as a significant expression of Japan's good will and friendliness to this country.

Among those informed of General Huerta's first choice of Japan, the move was construed as an attempt on his part to align one of the great world powers with his administration, and thus to accomplish a master stroke in diplomacy.

GENERAL PEREZ KILLED

Federal Commander Falls in Battle Near Monterey.

Chihuahua, April 30.—General Enrique Perez, commander of the Federal forces driven from Monterey by General Pablo Gonzales and his Constitutionalists, has been killed in battle at Marcia, below Monterey, according to an official report received by General Carranza.

Two hundred other Federal troops were killed. The Constitutionalists captured 300,000 rounds of ammunition, mountain guns and other war munitions, along with a quantity of Federal baggage.

Where's Mexican Navy?

Washington, April 30.—Where are the Mexican gunboats Zaragoza, Progreso and Bravo? They have not been heard from for several days. The navy department ordered Admiral Badger, at Vera Cruz, to find them. No opportunity will be given the Mexican "navy" to cause trouble.

Serious on West Coast.

Acapulco, Mex., April 30.—Refugees are fleeing from the west coast of Mexico through all ports of exit and by every available vessel. The cruiser South Dakota arrived here at dawn from San Francisco. Her officers consider the situation serious.

Consul Calls For Battleship.

New Orleans, April 30.—The steamer Livingston, arrived here, brought a message from the United States consul at Frontera that he is virtually a prisoner and that thirteen other Americans are held captive. He calls for a battleship.

VINCENT ASTOR WEDS MISS HUNTINGTON

Only Families and Intimate Friends Were Present.

Staatsburg, N. Y., April 30.—Vincent Astor, great-grandson of the first John Jacob Astor, and master of the Astor millions, and Miss Helen Dinsmore Huntington were married today at Hopland House, the home of the bride.

Only members of the families of the contracting parties and their intimate friends witnessed the ceremony. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles H. Duncan, of St. Margaret's Episcopal church.

The bride was attended by Miss Alice Huntington, her sister, while Herman Oelrichs, a long time chum of Mr. Astor, was best man.

As Mr. Astor has not fully recovered from his recent illness the newly married couple will spend a few days at the bride's home and then sail for Europe on Mr. Astor's yacht. After touring France in an automobile the young couple will go to London, where Mr. Astor's mother will entertain them.

MILITARY SUPPLIES CUT

Halt in Purchases Leads to the Belief That Mexican Trouble Is Clearing.

New York, April 30.—Orders received at the New York navy yard curtailing the amount of provisions that were to be purchased for the warships in Mexican waters is taken as evidence by officers at the yard and others that the navy department is hopeful of a peaceful solution of the Mexican situation.

The Washingtonian, a chartered freight steamer, was to have left the yard next week with a general cargo of provisions, among which was to be 1,200,000 pounds of refrigerated beef. This item has been cut to 500,000 pounds.

Canal Tolls Bill in Senate.

Washington, April 30.—Without recommendation, the senate committee on interoceanic canals, by a vote of 8 to 6, reported to the senate the house bill to repeal the toll exemption clause for American ships passing through the Panama canal. The report carries with it the amendment proposed by Senator Simmons that the United States waives no sovereignty rights over the canal.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving remembrance of our dear sister and daughter, Olive Bruce Maring, who departed this life April 2, 1914.

Dear sister, thou hast left us,
Here on earth we are alone
But we hope some day to meet you
Upon God's heavenly throne.

Everything is sad and dreary
For our home was broken that day
When the one we loved so dearly
Has forever passed away.

Dear father, sisters, and brothers
Grieve not for me,
While I am in eternity,
But be content and trust in God
And you shall receive a great reward.

ENTOMBED MEN MAY BE RESCUED

Workers in West Virginia
Mine Heard Digging.

67 ARE TAKEN OUT ALIVE

Many Rescuers in Wrecked Mine Are Overcome by Gas Fumes — Eleven Bodies Recovered.

Eccles, W. Va., April 30.—Hope that some of the 178 miners imprisoned in mine No. 5 of the New River Collieries company, wrecked by a gas explosion, might still be alive, stirred the throng on the mountain side. Eleven bodies have been recovered and sixty-seven men taken out alive.

A rescue party, driven out of No. 6, reported that they had heard sounds of digging beyond the barriers of debris choking the connecting entry. A party of fresh miners was hurried into the entry and attacked the fallen mass of rock with renewed vigor.

Twenty-five doctors have arrived on the scene and a carload of coffins also came. A great crowd has collected on the mountain, silently waiting until the galleries of No. 5 are unsealed and their tragic story told.

Most of the miners are American born, although there are quite a number of foreign born workers. Of the bodies recovered eight were white Americans, one negro and two foreign born.

The explosion was terrific. A rumbling noise was heard through the town and as residents rushed to the entrances of the mines timbers, pieces of cars and other debris shot from the mouth of No. 5 shaft.

Many of those rescued said they were overcome by the gas fumes before they knew what had happened. The first man to leave the mine shafts climbed to the surface of No. 6 hand over hand on a rope.

Tossing feverishly upon a cot in the improvised hospital, Steven Morowski, one of the rescued miners, told in broken sentences the story of the scenes in the interior of the mine, following the explosion.

"We were working as usual," said Morowski, "when there was a deafening roar and then a wall of fire swept through the shaft. It came without warning, but we instinctively threw ourselves upon our faces. The noise nearly burst our ears, and our lungs seemed filled with fire. The air was so full of gas that we choked when we tried to breathe."

"I thought my body was bursting. My last thought was 'My God, its death.' Then I fainted. The next thing I knew I opened my eyes in here. I don't know how many men were in the same chamber with me. I think there were twelve."

Agonized women huddled in groups behind the lines established about the mouth of No. 5 shaft. The more courageous of the women and the women folk of miners who had escaped imprisonment in the mine, made coffee and distributed sandwiches to the members of the rescue squads who fought against the dangers of fire and poison fumes.

20 DEAD IN LAKE STORM

Steamship Benjamin Noble Wrecked
Off Duluth.

Duluth, Minn., April 30.—The steamship Benjamin Noble is lost off Duluth and twenty members of her crew are believed to be dead.

Wreckage was found on Park Point. Life savers are unable to launch a boat because of the high seas. Not a man reached shore, so far as known. Several bodies from the Noble were washed ashore.

The Noble was on her first trip of the season. It was also her first voyage under the command of Captain Isenhardt and, likewise, it was his first trip as a vessel master. His home was in Milwaukee.

SEEK TO NEUTRALIZE TAMPICO

U. S. and Great Britain Try to Stop
Fighting in Oil Fields.

Washington, April 30.—In view of the serious situation at Tampico, where the town is in danger by the rapid accumulation of undistributed oil from the great wells nearby, the state department has appealed to the Constitutionalists in that vicinity to agree to a neutralization of the territory, including the oil fields and tanks.

The British legation in Mexico City is at the same time making an effort to induce General Huerta to join in this scheme of protection.

An epidemic of typhoid fever also is threatened at Tampico.

48 Mexican Prisoners Escape.

San Diego, Cal., April 30.—Forty-eight Mexican prisoners in the army detention camp at Fort Rosecrans escaped by digging a tunnel under the fences and barbed wire entanglements for a distance of seventy yards. Only fourteen of them have been recaptured.

Machinist Kills Himself.

South Bethlehem, Pa., April 30.—Charles Applegreen, in a fit of melancholia following the loss of his position as a machinist at the Bethlehem Steel works, committed suicide by inhaling gas.

United, Mexico Can Place 83,000 Soldiers In Field

Forces Nearly Equally Divided Between Federals and Rebels—How Principal Cities Are Held.
Side Lights on Mexican Soldiers

WITH all factions in Mexico united to fight against the United States it was recently figured that the little republic would put about 83,000 troops in the field. Perhaps this was overestimated in view of heavy losses by the federals and rebels in the fighting that culminated in the capture of Torreón by General Villa.

It is true that Huerta in characteristic fashion had caused to be spread broadcast that he already had 150,000 men in the field and that he was soon to add another 50,000 to the number. Villa, the victorious brigadier chief of the rebels of northern Mexico, repeatedly boasted an army that varied in size according to his humor from 25,000 to 100,000.

But from the best information in the possession of the United States government Huerta is believed to have an armed force, that is still loyal to the government in Mexico City, of about Between Hermosillo and Matamorán and right at the gates of Guaymas is a rebel force of about 6,000 veterans under General Obregón.

Figures show that in Sonora the rebels have all told a force of about 12,400 troops. The rebel forces there are well supplied with artillery.

Adjoining Sonora to the east is the still greater state of Chihuahua, the state that witnessed the culmination of Madero's triumphs and the state that gave to the rebel cause the notorious Villa and a host of other and less important leaders. Chihuahua from end to end is absolutely in the hands of the rebels under Carranza and Villa.

Figures indicate a force of between 12,000 and 13,000 soldiers in that state, all fighting under the banner of the revolution.

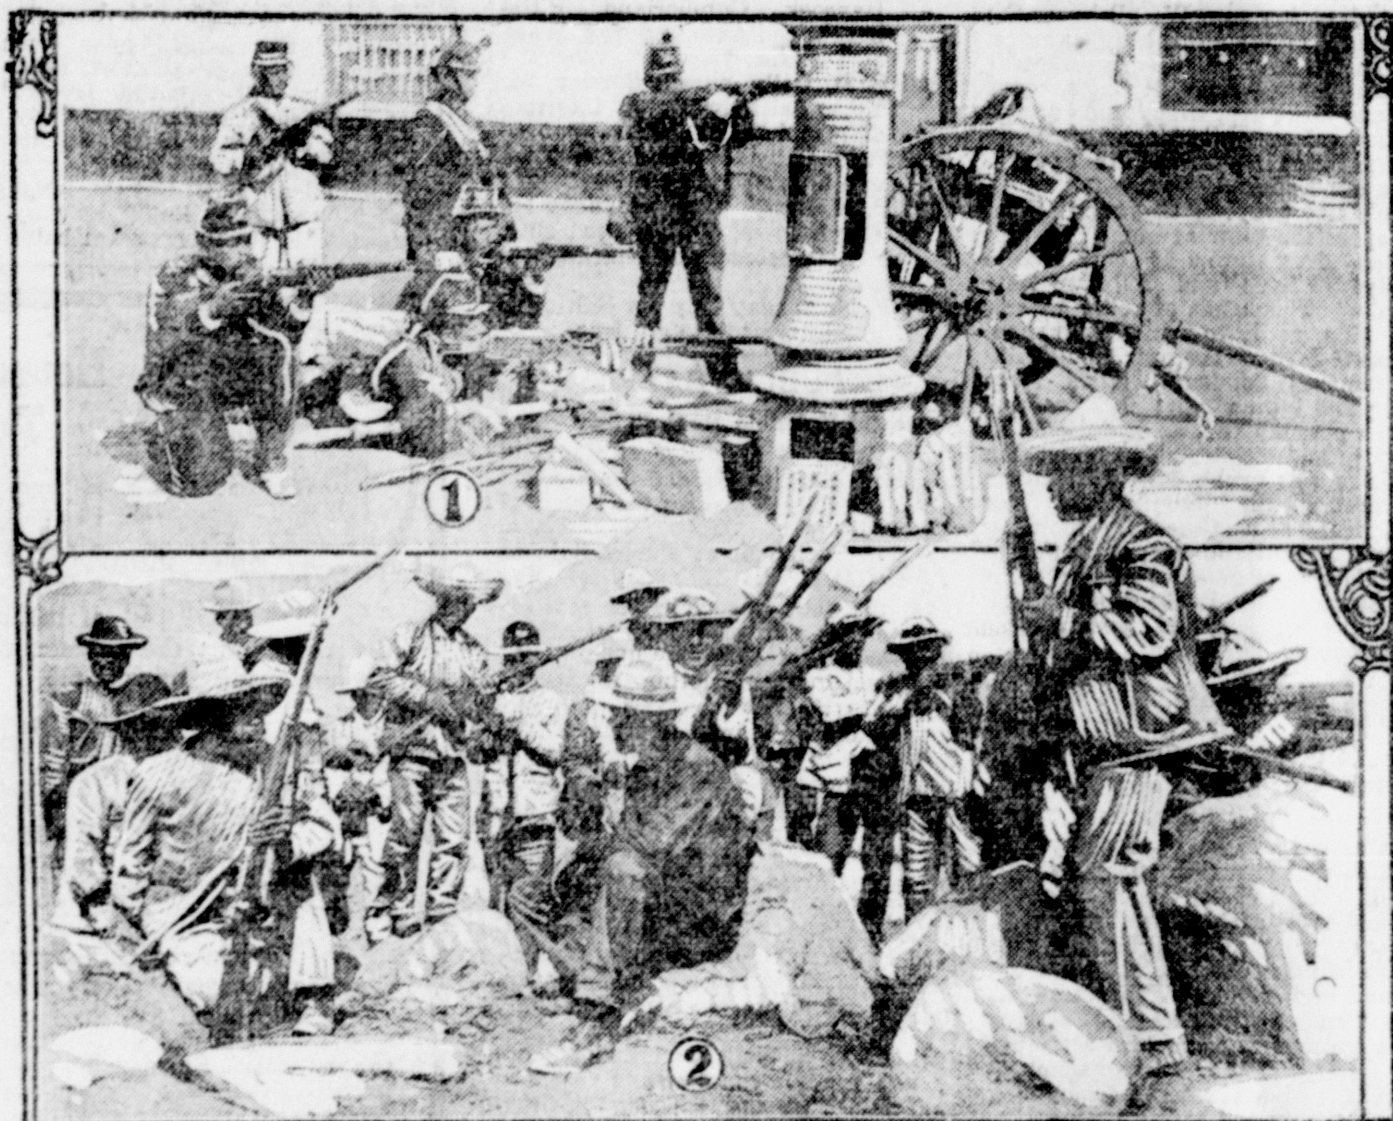

At Mazatlan, the principal seaport on the west coast, is a rebel army of about 4,000 men, while in various other parts of Sinaloa are small rebel detachments ly there was scarcely a modern high powered rifle in his army. There are many rifles in the Mexican army more than twenty years old. Some are the old black powder, large bore guns. An American officer who has been watching Mexican soldiers for two or three years has said that he has yet to see one of the modern needle pointed bullets, which carry 1,000 yards farther than the round nosed affairs of olden times and which have a flat trajectory that enables the soldier to set his battle sights and shoot on the level at 1,500 yards.

Huerta's artillery, however, is largely modern. He has in all 301 pieces. At least he had that many a few months ago. It is a curious fact, but there are more field guns in Mexico than in the United States. The superiority of American fire, however, is a big factor.

The Mexican regular army has no army service corps, no medical department to speak of. It carries no camp equipment, no supplies. Watch a field force break camp at dawn. First there go patterning off a horde of women laden with pots and pans, blankets, sometimes babies. These are the soldaderas, the camp followers, the commissariat of the force. That they move as quickly as they do is a miracle. Whatever the day's march may be, they are always on the camping ground before the men arrive. They rig up shelters, they cook tortillas and frijoles (maize cakes and beans), they make coffee. You see them mending their husbands' coats, washing their shirts, roughly tending flesh wounds. Without these soldaderas the army could not move.

MEXICAN FEDERALS AND REBELS AS THEY APPEAR IN ACTION.

1.—Type of federals. 2.—Type of rebels.

40,000, while the combined forces of all the rebel chieftains now operating in the revolution cursed republic total perhaps 43,000. This means that in Mexico today are about 83,000 men, almost equally divided between the so called Huerta government and the rebels, most of the latter being pretty well concentrated in the north of Mexico under the leadership of Villa and the lesser of the rebel leaders in Chihuahua.

Cochula, the northern boundary of which touches the United States for its entire length from east to west, is the single northern state where the Huerta forces retain a foothold. At Ciudad Porfirio Diaz, opposite Eagle Pass, Tex., is a force of 400 federals under Colonel Castro, included in which is a battery of artillery with four modern guns.

Around Torreón, which is one of the principal railroad centers in Mexico and which is just a few miles east of the city of Laredo in Durango, was a federal force estimated to number about 6,000 men until it was driven out recently by Villa.

In Coahuila and at Monclova is another federal force of 1,000 men; at Saltillo, another big railroad point, are 3,000 more loyalists; at Hipolito are 1,800 men who remain faithful to Huerta.

In Nuevo Leon, the state a little piece of which in tongue-like fashion licks its way north between the border lines of Coahuila on the west and Tamaulipas on the east until it touches the Rio Grande, just west of Nuevo Laredo, there is a Huerta force of about 1,200 men at Monterrey.

In Tampico the government has about 1,200 men under General Zaragoza.

In the city of San Luis Potosí, the principal town between Saltillo in Coahuila and the City of Mexico, the dictator has about 2,500 men.

In Mexico City the government is backed by a small army variously estimated to number anywhere between 4,000 and 6,000 men under the personal direction of Huerta.

In Vera Cruz, off which the American super-Dreadnoughts are on duty, the government has 1,000 men, with an artillery detachment of six guns.

Puebla is another state still loyal to Huerta. In Puebla City he has 1,000 men.

Mexicans Hardly Modern Fighters. So much for figures. The Mexican is hardly a modern fighter. Until recent-that, if concentrated, would probably add another 1,000 to the above total.

Durango is another rebel controlled state. In Durango City is a rebel force of 3,000 men under General Contreras. At Velardeña are 1,000 rebels, while at Laredo is an advance guard of about 500 men.

Huerta's Foothold in North.

Cochula, the northern boundary of which touches the United States for its entire length from east to west, is the single northern state where the Huerta forces retain a foothold. At Ciudad Porfirio Diaz, opposite Eagle Pass, Tex., is a force of 400 federals under Colonel Castro, included in which is a battery of artillery with four modern guns.

Puebla is another state still loyal to Huerta. In Puebla City he has 1,000 men.

Mexicans Hardly Modern Fighters. So much for figures. The Mexican is hardly a modern fighter. Until recent-hundreds of men by night in the City of Mexico and other cities in order to swell his forces to 100,000, he also had women "pressed" to go with the new soldiers and take care of them.

The rebels are better soldiers and mostly mounted. Villa has proved a resourceful general. The Indians and peons are also to be reckoned with. Then there is the danger of guerrilla warfare in the mountains.

Not Easy For United States.

In case the United States army takes possession of Mexico it will find no easy task confronting it in completely subjugating the country.

With the armies from the north in touch with that holding the capital, some 2,500 miles of communication would have to be kept open—a tremendous task, requiring the service of at least 125,000 men—fifty men to the mile. This would leave an equal number for further operations and for the occupation of strategic points.

The territory so far effectively occupied would not exceed twenty miles on each side of the railroad track, and Kitchen's blockade system might have to be employed to keep even that much. The reminder that all military measures depend upon the determination of the enemy is in order here.

A Dangerous Mistake

Gettysburg Mothers Should not Neglect Kidney Weakness in Children.

Many children have weak kidneys. An early warning is bed-wetting. Often followed by backache, headache, languor.

'Tis a mistake to neglect these troubles. To blame the child for its own distress.

Seek to check the cause. Save the child from dangerous kidney ills.

Doan's Kidney Pills are especially for weak kidneys.

Gettysburg parents know their worth.

G. W. Bowers, carpenter, Gettysburg, Pa., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and have found that they do me more good than any other kidney remedy. One of the younger members of my family had weak kidneys and Doan's Kidney Pills cured her. I advise anyone who has kidney complaint to take this remedy."

If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mr. Bowers had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50c all stores. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

When Mixed with Sulphur It Brings Back Its Lustre and Abundance.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance and restores its youthfulness.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the tonic at home or get from any drug store a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully and removes dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair; besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

Housekeeping Is Not the Task It Used to Be

MODERN invention has done away with much of the hard work. For instance, the cleaning and polishing of hardwood floors, the dusting of moldings, the tops of high furniture, the stairs, under the radiator, etc. These back-breaking tasks are now made easy with the

O-Cedar Mop Polish

With it you can dust, clean and polish a hardwood floor in the time it formerly took you to get ready to do it.

Besides, you do not have to get down on your hands and knees to dust under the bed or other hard-to-get-at places, or to stand on a chair to dust the top of the high furniture. All of the hard work is now made easy with the O-Cedar Mop. It gathers all the dust or dirt from everywhere and holds it. The mop is easily cleaned by washing and then renewed by pouring on a few drops of O-Cedar Polish.

Try It at Our Risk. Try two whole days with this undergarment: If you do not find it satisfactory in every respect we will return your money. The price is only $1.50 and it will save its price many times over in a short time.
